Nutrition Services at The Children's Institute of Pittsburgh

Registered dietitians at The Children's Institute treat children with a wide variety of diagnoses, ranging from recovery from traumatic accidents to chronic conditions. Nutrition services are an important part of each child's development and recovery.

Registered dietitians at The Children's Institute often see patients for:

- Weight loss or weight management
- Special diets, including gluten free and casein free
- Food allergies and diet restrictions
- Management of enteral and parenteral nutrition
- Functional feeding difficulties
- Failure to Thrive
- Diabetes management
- Other nutritional concerns as referred by physicians and other medical professionals

The Children's Institute can easily coordinate your nutrition services with other members of our medical rehabilitation team to provide a comprehensive treatment approach.

Members of this team include:

- Specialty Physicians
- Physical Therapists
- Occupational Therapists
- Speech/Language Pathologists
- Behavioral Health Providers

Consider the benefits of a nutrition evaluation by one of our registered dietitians for your child today.
